

1940s

Caroline Beard, NU 46; Dec. '18

Caroline Beard died Friday, December 14, 2018.

Margaret Bubolz, NU '45; Dec. '18

Margaret Seibert Bubolz passed away December 21, 2018. She was born February 14, 1923 in St. Louis, Mo. to Henrietta (Struckmeyer) and Harry Seibert. She had a wonderful childhood with her 3 brothers, Charles Gene, John "Jack" and Warren in Carbondale, Ill.

She attended Southern Illinois University before moving on to complete her nursing degree at Washington University in St. Louis, Mo. She then joined the U.S. Army Nurses Cadet program and while stationed at Fort O'Reilly in Springfield, Mo., met a combat injured Army Lieutenant, Danford J. Bubolz, who would become the love of her life. They married April 14th, 1946 and raised 7 children in Wisconsin.

Margaret was a woman of many talents. She enjoyed knitting and sewing for her family, baking amazing bread, painting, carving wildlife, calligraphy, refinishing furniture and restoring the woodwork of our old houses to transform them into our warm family homes. She enjoyed playing the organ and accordion and amazed us with her dancing fingers. Her outdoor pursuits included white water canoeing, back country camping and gardening. Her iris plants continue to bloom in her children's gardens.

In the early 1970's, Margaret returned to the nursing profession, working for Madison General Hospital, primarily on the neurology ward. Her compassion for nursing did not end with her shift, as she also tended to family members and friends in their time of need. There were also many family pets and little orphaned wildlife that benefited from her tender touch.

Margaret was predeceased by her parents; her husband of 54 years, Danford; 2 brothers Charles Gene (Geri & Robbie), Warren (Nedra); sisters-in-law Anita Anderegg (Robert) and Frances Bubolz; and sons-in-law Dennis Kuba, Roy Burns and Tom Knight.

She is survived by her brother Jack (Joan) Seibert; all seven children: Marky Kuba, Susan Burns, Margaret Ellen Knight, Amy (Mike) Fowler, Danford C. (Susan) Bubolz, Dr. Justin (Sonja) Bubolz, and J. Forrest Bubolz. She was also blessed with 16 grandchildren, 22 great-grandchildren and 2 more, soon to arrive.

The family would like to thank the staffs of the New Glarus Glarner Lodge (Assisted Living) and the New Glarus Home (Skilled Nursing) for their skill, dedication and the loving way they cared for Mom. The family would also like to thank all the Monroe Clinic Hospice staff for their devoted and compassionate care to Mom.

Dottie Herweg, NU '47; April '19

Dorothy "Dottie" Glahn Herweg passed away peacefully at age 94 on Tuesday, April 16, 2019.

Dottie, the second of four children of Pastor Paul and Edna Glahn, was raised in Evansville, Ill. After attending Southern Illinois University, Dottie earned her RN at the Washington University School of Nursing. On graduating, she accepted a position at St. Louis Children's Hospital, where she rose to become head nurse on the infants' ward.

In 1959, she married John C. Herweg, M.D. (MD '45) and became the mother to Marjorie, Mary Jo, and James. John and Dottie had one daughter, Jan Marie. They also had a loving, supportive marriage that lasted 59 years.

As her children grew, Dottie was active driving carpools, serving as a room mother, and chauffeuring children to music lessons and baseball practice.

Dottie was an avid fan of the Cardinals all her life. Growing up, she listened to the games on the radio, and when she moved to St. Louis, she cheered her team from the bleachers at Sportsman's Park as often as possible.

For decades, Dottie spent every Thursday birdwatching with the Webster Groves Nature Study Society. If an unusual bird was sighted in the region, Dottie got a call from the birders' hotline and she and John would drive to see it. In retirement, Dottie and John traveled throughout the United States and the world to spot birds. They especially enjoyed traveling with groups led by expert birding guides.

Dottie's favorite location for birding was the family cottage in Michigan's Upper Peninsula. She always had her binoculars close at hand while sitting on the porch swing, riding in the water wheeler, or hiking up the lane.

Dottie's kind spirit and sweet smile will be greatly missed.

Donald J. Stallard, MD '47; April '19

Donald Julian Stallard, Sr., passed away on April 10, 2019, at the age of 96. He was born February 2, 1923, to Julian H. Stallard and Gladys Redding. He was a lifelong resident of St. Joseph. His early education included Central High School and St. Joseph Junior College, now Missouri Western State University. Following this, he obtained a B.A. degree at Kansas University in Lawrence and an M.S. degree in medicine at Missouri University in Columbia. His MD degree was earned at Washington University in St. Louis in 1947. Subsequently, he served a three-year residency in internal medicine at the University of Iowa Hospitals in Iowa City. There he met his wife of almost 63 years, Loah Lunan.

Donald was engaged in the practice of internal medicine for over 35 years, first at the Thompson-Brumm-Knepper Medical and Surgical Clinic, and later with the Northwest Missouri Medical Group until his retirement in 1990.

He was a Fellow of the American College of Physicians and a member of Phi Beta Pi medical fraternity. During his active practice years, he served as president of the staff of the former Methodist Medical Center and president of the Buchanan County Medical Society. He also served on the boards of the regional chapter of the American Red Cross, the St. Joseph Symphony, the Missouri Valley Trust Company, and Green Acres Residential Facility. After retirement, Donald was active with InterServ Meals on Wheels, Pass the Power Literacy programs, and the Advisory Board of the Salvation Army. He also enjoyed many semesters of study at Missouri Western State University.

Donald was an Army veteran of World War II and the Korean Conflict, serving in Korea as a medical officer. His citations included the Korean Service Medal with two service stars and the Combat Medical Badge.

For 10 consecutive years, he was a champion of the YMCA's citywide squash tournament.

Donald was preceded in death by his parents, Julian and Gladys Redding Stallard, and his sister, Betty Schowalter.

He is survived by his wife; four children, Julia (Paul) Horne, Germantown, Tenn., Mary (Rob Marinai) Stallard, Oakland, Calif., Donald (Karen), Mission Hills, Kans., and James (Cathy Hicks) New York City, N.Y.; and six grandchildren, Brandon Horne, Michael Horne, Amelia Marinai, William Stallard, Samuel Stallard, and Grace Stallard.

Humbert M. Valenti, DE '49; April '19

Humbert Mario (Val) Valenti was born in Brooklyn, New York on June 12, 1927 to Umberto and Rosarina Valenti, Italian immigrants from Capo d'Orlando, Sicily. He was raised in Brooklyn and attended Washington University School of Dentistry in St. Louis graduating in 1949 after joining the US Army. He served as a Captain in the 3rd Army Dental Corp and was stationed in post war Germany where he met Evelyne Windischmann, a displaced refugee from Usti-nad-Labem, Czechoslovakia. They were married in 1952. Shortly thereafter, they moved back to the States and he finished his active duty military service at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo. Drawn by the allure of the West they settled in the Treasure Valley establishing a dental practice in Meridian while raising a family of three in west Boise. During his long career in dentistry he faithfully served his patients who came from far and wide to endure a bevy of puns and jokes. He served as President of the Idaho Dental Association, local and regional Red Cross director, and was instrumental in introducing fluoridated water to Meridian. He also had many civic responsibilities serving with the Meridian Chamber of Commerce, Boise Philharmonic and Toastmasters. He continued serving in the Army Reserve achieving the rank of Lieutenant Colonel.

Val was a classical music and opera enthusiast, an avid sports fan and gardener.

He was preceded in death by his parents and brother, and by his wife, Evelyne in 2012. He is survived by his three children Mark (Jeanine) of Redmond, Ore.; Jan (Jack) Thomas of Eagle, Idaho and Ray (Debbie) Valenti of Meridian, Idaho, ten grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

The family would like to express our sincere gratitude for the services provided to our father by the staff at MorningStar Senior Living of Boise and Keystone Hospice.

Rex Witherspoon, DE '46; Jan. '19

Charles Rex Witherspoon, DDS, passed away peacefully Monday, January 7, 2019 in his home with his family by his side. He was 95.

Rex will be remembered for his integrity, work ethic, and for the love of this fellow man. He was beloved by his family, friends, family, church community, and professional community with whom he worked for more than 60 years. Rex was described by his dear family and friends as a man whose joy and kindness was contagious. His nurses often said, "When Dr. Witherspoon walks into a room, it's like turning on the sun." That's just it, his presence brightened the lives of all he encountered. From his patients and colleagues to the people on the street, Rex's infectious happiness knew no bounds.

Rex joined the world on October 29, 1923 to parents Harry and Lucy Witherspoon of Springfield, Mo. He grew up in a modest home on the north side of Springfield as the oldest of three children. He graduated from Springfield Senior High School in 1941 and went to Drury University. In 1942, Rex put his studies on hold to do what his generation did, serve his country. He joined the Navy. His Naval service included overseas duty aboard the U.S.S. Providence, CL-82 and the U.S.S. Albany, CA-123. In the midst of his naval service, Rex attended Washington University School of Dental Medicine where he received his doctorate degree. He went on to complete his post graduate work in Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery at the University of Chicago and his Oral Surgery Fellowship in Kansas City.

In 1952, Rex returned to Springfield and founded the firm that became Oral and Maxillofacial Surgery, Ltd (OMS). Dr. Witherspoon continued to work at OMS until his retirement in 2013 after more than 60 years of work as an oral surgeon. OMS continues to be a pivotal surgery center in Springfield with five surgeons and a large staff to carry on Dr. Witherspoon's legacy. As if his work in Springfield weren't enough, he spread his positive impact in the profession of dentistry around the world. Rex traveled for years as a Dental Team Leader for Project Hope where he worked with a team of other doctors to meet the medical need of men, women, and children living in poverty. His last trip to Nicaragua was taken at the age of 87.

Rex's dedication to his career and the advancement of oral surgery did not end at 5:00 p.m. He was very involved with professional affairs on the local, state, national and international levels. Most notably, Rex was president of the Springfield Dental Society, president of the Greater Springfield Dental Foundation, president of the Missouri Association of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeons, and president of the Midwestern Association of Oral and Maxillofacial Surgeons. He received multiple professional and community awards including the Most Outstanding Student of his class at Washington University School of Dental Medicine, the Missouri Dental Association Dentist of the year in recognition of his outstanding service and devotion as editor of the Journal of the Missouri Dental Association, and the Springfield Chamber of Commerce Salute to Health Award for his co-founding of the Oncology Dentist Support Program at Mercy Hospital. He was the first chairman of the Dental Department at Mercy and served in its Executive Committee. In 2012, Rex was awarded the Missouri Dental Association's Distinguished Service Award in recognition of his many years of service and dedication to organized dentistry and the dental profession.

Not only was he active in the dentistry world, Rex spent much of his free time involved with philanthropic organizations in the Springfield community. He served as president of the Springfield Junior Chamber of Commerce, president of Burrell Mental Health Center, chairman of the board of the Missouri Cancer Society, and president of the Ozark Counseling Center among many others. He also served on the board of the Rotary Club, Salvation Army, United Way, Boy Scouts of America, and YMCA. His altruism, philanthropy, and generosity were a beautiful part of his character garnering him admirations and respect from everyone he came in contact with.

Rex married his wife Jan late in life. They wed in California in 1998 and went on to thrive in a wonderful harmonious life together. They made family the center of their lives and greatly enjoyed visiting their combined seven children who live throughout the United States and overseas. They loved hiking, golfing, and traveling together. Rex often gushed that Jan was his best friend and the love of his life. Together they enjoyed 20 blissful years.

Rex was valued by his numerous colleagues and friends as a deeply thoughtful mentor and advisor and will be missed by many. He was a member of Second Baptist Church where he made lifelong friends through worship and fellowship. He also was a long-term member of Hickory Hills Country Club where he enjoyed golfing and his days off. He was an avid flyer, earning his pilot's license after leaving the Navy. On the weekends he could be found playing dominoes and cards with his family and friends.

Rex's greatest passion was to live a life of integrity and to make a difference in the lives of others. He was certainly successful in his endeavor as he leaves behind a bounty of family, friends, colleagues, acquaintances, and patients that deeply valued this effect on their lives.

Rex is survived by his wife Jan; son Dr. Douglas Witherspoon and his wife Pat of Birmingham, Ala.; daughter Dr. Valerie Witherspoon of Los Angeles, Calif.; daughter Megan Witherspoon of Jacksonville, FL; daughter Allyson Witherspoon of Tokyo, Japan; son Dr. Robert Witherspoon and his wife Asha of Dallas, Tex.; stepson Andrew Dellbringge of Shawnee Mission, Kans.; stepson Robby Roberts of Clemson, S.C.; sister Pat and her husband Dr. George Poulos and their children and grandchildren; brother Dr. Jim Witherspoon and his wife Becky and their children and grandchildren; and many grandchildren and great-grandchildren of his own.

Charles F. Bahn, MD '51; April '19

Charles "Charlie" Bahn of McCordsville, Ind., passed away on April 23, 2019, at the age of 92. The youngest of 3 children of William C. and Louise B. Bahn, he grew up in Cape Girardeau, Mo. Preceding him in death were his parents, both siblings (Dr. G. Eugene Bahn and Louis W. Bahn) and his first and second wives [Betty B. (Morrow) Bahn, and Loeta J. (McMackin) Bahn]. He is survived by his children: Martel L. (Robert) Plummer of McCordsville, Ind.; Charles F. Bahn, Jr, of Aurora, Mo.; Christopher F. (Geri) Bahn of Loudon County, Tenn.; R. Stuart Bahn (Amy) of Hendersonville, Tenn.; and Stephen A. (Yvette) Bahn of Cleveland, Tenn.; as well as eleven grandchildren, five great-grandchildren, two step-grandchildren and four step great-grandchildren.

Charlie will be remembered for his ready supply of jokes, sense of adventure, enjoyment of the outdoors, love of family, and his commitment to the medical profession and his patients.

Likewise, many will recall his active involvement with both his and the neighborhood children via games, hikes, workshop projects, camping, scouting and sailing, as well as his highly-imaginative story-telling prowess. He loved photography and was a fine musician, playing both clarinet and saxophone at school and in a high school dance-band.

Charlie graduated with a BS in Medicine from Missouri U in 1949, then from Washington U Medical School in 1952. On December 27, 1949, he married his high school sweetheart, Betty Morrow. After completing a fellowship at Ochsner Hospital in New Orleans, La., he joined the U.S. Air Force via the Physician Draft and the couple and their young daughter moved to Okinawa where he served two years at Kadena Air Base. Upon discharge he completed a dual post-graduate training program at Ochsner in Internal Medicine, as well as their very first Gastroenterology class.

In 1956, they moved home to Cape Girardeau, Mo., where he opened his initial medical practice, later forming Cape Internal Medicine Group in 1959, then Gastroenterology Specialists during his final few years in medicine. His foremost specialties included early work with the Gastroscope, then pioneering work with the fiber-optic colonoscopy procedure in the 1970s. In the mid-1970s, he and several medical peers laid the groundwork, and initiated the purchase of land, for the Cape Girardeau Doctors' Park medical campus.

After the death of his wife, he married Loeta J. McMackin in 1976. They remained in Cape Girardeau until his retirement in 1988, at which time they moved to Prescott, Ariz. He and his wife quickly grew to love the beauty of the Southwest and exploring Native American history and culture. They could often be found camping throughout the West, driving back roads, and exploring ancient ruins of the Native Americans.

During the next 15 years, he continued doing a labor-of-love, working in several medical-related jobs in Ariz. Charlie was a devout Christian and active in the Prescott First Baptist Church and Sunday School classes. He was a lifelong member of Rotary International. He learned the art of wood-turning on his lathe and crafted beautiful wooden bowls, many inlaid with turquoise and precious stones. Over his lifetime, Charlie enjoyed collecting and restoring antique cars, one of which won a national competition, including Model-T's, Model-A's, Rolls Royces and a Packard. He also actively participated in two medical missions in Ghana, Africa.

After the death of his second wife in 2016, he moved to Indiana to be nearer his children.

Milton J. Deitch, MD '59; May '19

Milton Joseph Deitch, retired Atlanta urologist, died Friday, May 10, 2019, at the age of 85 following a courageous battle with Alzheimer's Disease and Parkinson's Disease. Born in Chattanooga, Tenn., he attended the McCallie School and then earned his undergraduate degree from Princeton University, and his medical degree from the Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis, Mo. He moved to Atlanta to complete his medical training in 1961 and then practiced urology in Atlanta for 35 years, primarily from his Perimeter Urology office. A founding member of Temple Sinai in Sandy Springs, he served as the synagogue's second president and remained an active, engaged member of the congregation, offering leadership and support throughout the synagogue's history. Milton's natural curiosity made him a great traveler, exploring sites throughout the U.S and around the world. He was both an avid sports fan and amateur athlete who waterskied, snow skied and was always up for a game of catch. Golf was his passion. He enjoyed big band music and loved dancing to it. And, most and best of all, he loved and was devoted to his family. Following his retirement, Milton and his wife, Sara, moved to Daufuskie Island, S.C., where he served in a variety of local leadership positions, in between beach walks and golf games.

Milton was predeceased by his parents, Isadore and Anna Deitch; and his sister, Rochelle Deitch Eber. In addition to his wife, Milton is survived by his sons, Joel (Corey-Jan Albert), David (Jody Miller), Jonathan, and Daniel (Jessica Beaushene Deitch); and his grandchildren, Cameron Albert-Deitch and Maxxe Albert-Deitch. He will be deeply missed by extended family, innumerable friends, classmates and colleagues.

Virginia H. Granger, NU '53; Jan. '19

Virginia Granger was born February 21, 1920 in Johnson City, Ill. She and her parents, Jesse and Orpha Henderson, moved to West Frankfort, Ill. when Virginia was about two years old.

Virginia graduated from West Frankfort, Ill. Community High School in 1937. She went to Nursing School at Christian Welfare Hospital in East St. Louis, Ill. and earned her RN in 1942. Later, after her service in the Army, Virginia went to Washington University in St. Louis, Mo., and graduated in 1952 with a Bachelor of Science in Nursing.

Virginia volunteered for the Army Nurse Corps in 1943 and was commissioned a Second Lieutenant. At Camp McCoy, Wisconsin, Va. received her basic training and then worked at the station hospital for six weeks while awaiting further orders. Virginia traveled by troop train to Camp Kilmer, N.J., which was the Port of Embarkation. During the few months, Virginia received additional training and worked in the station hospital.

Virginia was sent to Barnstaple, England as a platoon nurse caring for troops aboard ship and also working in the station hospital. This was a temporary assignment while a passenger/cargo ship was being converted into the 206th Hospital Ship Thistle. Aboard the Thistle Virginia returned to New York where she was promoted to First Lieutenant and given a permanent two year assignment on the Thistle. The United States home ports for the Thistle were New York City and Charleston, S.C. Her overseas port was Naples, Italy. While aboard the Thistle, Va. made 12 round trips across the Atlantic Ocean bringing back sick and wounded troop's home from the European Theaters. While in the Mediterranean Sea, they also shuttled sick and wounded troops from Oran, Africa and Southern France. Virginia and the rest of the crew of the Thistle participated in the Southern France Invasion (D-Day+1). At the end of the war, the Thistle was sent to the Philippine Islands to evacuate the remaining sick and wounded. After three years of service, Virginia was discharged in Des Moines, Iowa.

Virginia was awarded the World War II Victory Medal, the EAME (Eastern, American, Mediterranean) Campaign Medal with three Bronze Service Stars, the American Pacific Campaign Medal and three overseas bars.

Virginia was married for thirty years. She and her late husband never had any children. After leaving the Army, Va. worked as a nurse at the John Cockran Veterans Hospital in St. Louis, Mo., and the Memphis Veterans Hospital. She worked a total of thirty years at these two hospitals and served in almost all departments within the hospitals. For several years Virginia was the supervisor of the Spinal Cord Injury, Post-Surgical Unit and Psychiatric Departments of the hospital in Memphis.

Except for her college years in St. Louis, Mo., Virginia has lived in Memphis since 1946. She helped open the Veterans Hospital in St. Louis and she helped move the Memphis Veterans Hospital from Park and Getwell, to its current location on Jefferson Avenue. She retired from the VA in 1979, Virginia moved to Kirby Pines in 1995 where she lived out the remainder of her life.

We as her family rejoice knowing she is reunited with her sister, Mary Street Gandy Cogswell and other members of her home church at Germantown Church of Christ.

Aunt Ginny was witty, intelligent, kind hearted, adventurous, wise and patriotic. Virginia is survived by her niece Mindy Ross and nephew Zack Street, Sr. Virginia has eight great nieces and nephews; 10 great-great nieces and nephews. She is loved and will be missed by all.

Sally Francis McMillen, NU '56; March '19

Sally McMillen, a 56-year resident of Plantation, passed peacefully on Thursday, March 7, 2019. Born January 4, 1936 in Crane, Mo., Sally was preceded in death by her husband of 60 years, Donald McMillen, who passed last October. Sally is survived by her children, Betsy (Scott) Serzen, Jay (Michele) and Matthew (Yolanda) and her five grandchildren. Sally attended nursing school at Washington University in St. Louis, at the ripe old age of 17. She applied the knowledge she learned in both life and work, specializing in the field of epidemiology. Having always possessed quite the artistic ability, she enjoyed creating and sharing beautiful pieces in her paint room with the additional time she had in retirement. Sally was always ready for the next adventure. Sally and Don travelled around the world, usually with dear friends. Sally especially enjoyed traveling with her extended family; including numerous summers in Fripp Island, South Carolina and a 50th anniversary cruise through the Baltic Sea. Sally had many attributes, but a world-renowned capacity for patience was not one of them. When her serenity was tested, "Sassy Sally" was quick to offer her opinion and had a knack for telling it like it is.

Alongside the sass, she cared deeply for those close to her and brought wit with much love to everything she did and said. Sally will be deeply missed.

Arthur M. Clements, MD '61; March '19

Arthur Morgan Clements, MD, 82, of Fredericksburg, passed away March 18, 2019. Dr. Clements was born on May 25, 1936 in Huntsville, Ala. to Francis Bugbee Clements, Jr. and Dorothy Stokes Salley.

Dr. Clements earned a bachelor's degree in zoology from the University of Texas at Austin and a medical degree from The Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis. He interned at the University of Florida and completed a year of medical residency in general surgery before being drafted into the military and serving as a captain in the US Army Medical Corp during conflicts in Korea and the Dominican Republic.

Dr. Clements fulfilled his residency in ophthalmology at Boston University and Tufts University. He completed his ophthalmology fellowship at Harvard University. In 1969, Dr. Clements moved to Dallas and established a private ophthalmology practice. He married Jacquelyn Ogden of Ottumwa, Iowa in 1976. Prior to moving to Fredericksburg, Dr. Clements had a brief stint teaching and performing eye surgery at the King Khalid Eye Specialist Hospital in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia.

Dr. Clements made his home in Fredericksburg, Tex. and started a private ophthalmology practice in Fredericksburg in 1985, in part so he could be near his then elderly mother, who resided in San Antonio, Tex. He retired from practicing ophthalmology in 2001.

Dr. Clements spent his retirement traveling to numerous countries across the world. He was a lifelong train aficionado, and he relished traveling throughout Russia on the Trans-Siberian Railway, starting in Vladivostok, and across Canada on the Canadian National Railway.

Dr. Clements is survived by his sister Joan Lillian Clements Lamnek of Houston, Tex. and his children, Julie Ann Clements Smith of Bethesda, Md. and Bradford Arthur Clements of San Francisco, Calif. Dr. Clements was preceded in death by his parents and sister, Dorothy Salley Clements Lang, of Indianapolis, Ind., also formerly a resident of Fredericksburg.

Harold K. Kanagawa, MD '65; April '19

Harold Kanagawa, M.D., age 79, passed away on April 9, 2019, surrounded by his family at Mercy hospital in Springfield, Mo. He was born in Stockton, Calif. on November 9, 1939, to parents Harold "Hajime" and Grace "Yone" Kanagawa.

During World War II, when Harold was a young child and his father had a private medical practice in Stockton, the family was relocated along with many aunts, uncles, and cousins to an internment camp in Rohwer, Ark. built for Japanese-Americans by the U.S. government.

At the end of the war, the family was released, moved to Jefferson City, Mo., and became a part of the local medical community. Harold was a Boy Scout, played clarinet in Marching Jays Band, attended First Presbyterian Church, and graduated from Jefferson City High School in 1957.

In 1961 he graduated from Westminster College in Fulton, Mo., and in 1965 from Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis, Mo.

He completed his medical residency at Jewish Hospital in St. Louis, Mo., then served as a Captain at Bergstrom Air Force Base in Austin, Tex. Upon returning to Missouri, he earned a Fellowship in Cardiology from University of Missouri in Columbia, Mo.

In 1971 he joined Internal Medicine Inc. and brought progressive medical advances to Jefferson City including creating an Echocardiology Department and Heart Catheterization Laboratory at St. Mary's Hospital. In 1988 he served as Medical Director of the Heart Center, enabling open heart surgery to be performed in Jefferson City.

He served as Chief of Staff at St. Mary's Hospital and Memorial Community Hospital, Medical Director of St. Mary's Hospital Intensive Care Unit, President of the Cole County Medical Society, and President of the Board of Jefferson City Montessori School, a school he helped create and where his children attended.

After retirement, he and his wife Sandy built a house in Nixa, Mo., to be closer to children and grandchildren. There he avidly pursued hobbies including photography, golf, fishing, travel, and playing bridge. After joining the Bridge Club of Springfield, he attained the title of Advanced NABC Master. He served as a volunteer for Springfield Sister Cities Association and Friends of the Garden.

Harold and Sandy traveled often with family and friends to visit countries including Japan, China/Hong Kong, Russia, Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, Spain, Portugal, England, Scotland, Australia, New Zealand, Nova Scotia, Canada, Mexico, Costa Rica, and Puerto Rico. Every couple of years they traveled to the annual Shima-Inouye Family Reunion, staying in close touch with his California Japanese-American family and heritage.

He is survived by his wife Sandy Kanagawa, daughter Pam RuBert and husband Russ; son Chris Kanagawa, wife Kim, and their two children Lily and Niko; daughter Stacy Kanagawa, husband David Robertson, their three children Nora, Indie, Annie, Annie's husband Kouassi and daughter Fahren; and former wife Linda Ortmeyer Kanagawa. He was preceded in death by his parents and son Andrew Kanagawa.

David J. Krutchkoff, DE '64; April '19

David Krutchkoff, esteemed and beloved Professor Emeritus and founder of the Oral and Maxillofacial Pathology Department at the University of Connecticut Health Center, died on Friday, April 12, 2019, with his loving family at his side. He was 80 years old. The son of Morris Krutchkoff M.D. and Alice Marie Moore, Dave grew up in California, landing a spot on the University of California at Berkeley Varsity Golf Team. He then received his Dental degree from the Washington University of St. Louis Dental School. Dave served as a U.S. Naval dentist for three years, commencing his dental career in San Diego. Shortly thereafter, he was transferred to Sasebo, Japan, where he met the love of his life and bride, Sumiko Takao. Dave received his honorable discharge after three years of Naval service, and became Dr. Nathaniel Rowe's first graduate resident in Oral Pathology, following him from Washington University of St. Louis to the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor. While at Barnes Hospital, he had the honor of being tutored by renowned general pathologist Lauren Ackerman, M.D. Upon completion of his Pathology residency, Dave took his first academic position as Assistant Professor at the University of Louisville, and shortly thereafter he moved to Connecticut to become Associate Professor of Oral Pathology at the University of Connecticut Health Center. Dave has contributed a wealth of original scientific literature to the field of Oral Pathology, and earned himself an international reputation. He lectured around the world, and retired from academics in 1996, having earned the title of Professor. He continued to assist with the biopsy service at the UConn Health Center, and enjoyed playing golf, collecting wine, and writing several books. Dave leaves his devoted wife, Sumiko Takao, and their children: Tammy Saunt (Bart), Todd (Megan Morahan) and Laurie Hilton and most beloved grandchildren Angela, Sachi, Max, Tessa, Landon and Cole. He also leaves his sister, Nan Lopez (Andre). It was a twist of fate that brought him Dentistry and Sasebo. Dave left an indelible mark on the world of dentistry and the lives of everyone he touched.

Gary A. Storey, MD '61; March '19

Gary Storey was born in Bakersfield, Calif. on March 23, 1935. He passed away on March 13, 2019 at his home in Fresno, Calif., with family at his side. Gary attended John Muir Elementary School, Hamilton Junior High, and Fresno High School, where he met a number of classmates that would later develop into many life-long friendships. After graduating from Fresno State University, he left Fresno to attend Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis, Mo., starting a career path that turned out to be the love of his life. After graduating from medical school, Gary joined a Residency program in Urology at St. Louis City Hospital, where he met and married a nurse, Lynn Williamson Storey, with whom he would later have three children. After St. Louis, Gary continued his training in Pediatric Urology at Columbia University Medical Center in New York City before enlisting to serve as a surgeon in the U.S. Army in Vietnam, stationed at the Long Binh Army Hospital near Saigon. Upon discharge from the Army, Gary returned to Fresno to join a Urology practice, continuing the work he always wanted to do. Gary spent the remainder of his life, nearly fifty years, practicing Urology in Fresno. He never wanted to do anything else, nor live anywhere else. In his last days, Gary expressed how grateful he felt to have been able to spend his life doing what he loved, to have had a wonderful family, and to have benefitted from so many meaningful friendships dating back to the Fresno High School days. In recent years, there was nothing Gary enjoyed doing more than getting together for coffee with the guys to reminisce about the past, talk Fresno State sports, or whatever subject came to mind. The topic of conversation was, of course, far less important than simply spending time together.

Gary is survived by his second wife, Charlene Hagus DVM of Fresno; his son Steve Storey, M.D. and wife Samantha, M.D. and their children, Cole, Priya and Maya of Atlanta, Georgia; son Greg Storey of Sunnyvale, California; daughter Leslie Storey, M.D. and husband Weston Threlkeld and their children Isabella, Calvin and Talia of Fresno; Gary's sister, Harriet Perkins of Fresno and her children Mitchell Perkins and Peggy Washburn.

Wallace P. Berkowitz, HS; Jan. '19

Wallace P. Berkowitz, M.D., passed away on Tuesday, January 22, 2019. He was the beloved husband of Pamela Berkowitz; dearest father of Lauren (Mark) Neels and the late Lindsay Berkowitz; dear brother of Daniel Berkowitz; lifelong friend of the Boyle family and Patricia Jenkins; our dear friend of many.

Dr. Berkowitz earned his high school diploma from St. Peter's Preparatory School in Jersey City, N.J., before moving on to pursue his higher education. He graduated from the University of Notre Dame in 1963, Cum Laude, and went on to medical school at Boston University School of Medicine from 1963-1967. He went on to become a surgical intern, then a Resident at the University of Chicago, moving on to St. Louis to be an NIH Special Fellow, and after that a Resident in Otolaryngology at Washington University School of Medicine.

In 1969, the Vietnam War interrupted his training when he was drafted into the Army Medical Corps. He served in Vietnam as an orthopedic surgeon, then spent a year at Fort Benning, Georgia. The experience was a profound one for him, and he would go on to say that this time as a young doctor in Vietnam impacted his career and allowed him to be fearless as a surgeon, able to have nerve and talent to operate successfully on so many.

Dr. Berkowitz used his commendable training to become an extremely successful ENT, Head and Neck surgeon. He often worked longer hours, or went in early, doing whatever it took to help a patient in need. If someone needed to be seen that day, they were seen that day. His devotion earned him many loyal patients in over 40 years of his medical practice, and people traveled to St. Louis for their yearly ear cleaning appointment. Dr. Berkowitz also provided many pilots with their FAA physicals, and, as a pilot himself, loved chatting with them about the skies.

If he wasn't at one of his many offices in the St. Louis area, Wallace spent many years traveling across the globe with his family, often flying his own little 6 seater Cessna plane to their destinations. He and his devoted wife of 46 years enjoyed many happy times together in Paris, Japan, Ireland, Italy, their absolute favorite being Bermuda. When his two children were growing up, Sunday was dedicated to taking them on various adventures throughout St. Louis...The Art Museum, The City Museum, skating or boating in Forest Park, Brunch at the MAC, just to name a few.

With declining health in the last few years, he was never discouraged, always looking at the bright side and not "sweating the small stuff". Just the other day, while rehabilitating from an illness, he was anxious to get back to his office, his patients, his staff, and the career that he devoted himself to for so long. He will be immeasurably missed by his family and friends who have walked beside him throughout his full, successful, life.

Joan Blondin, HS '74; March '19

Joan Blondin, 82, passed away on March 7, 2019 in Austin, Tex. where she had been residing since her retirement from LSU Medical School in December 2018.

Joan was born on November 28, 1936 in Beaumont, Tex. to Joseph and Ona Mae Blondin. She was the oldest of three children.

Joan graduated from Louisiana Tech University with a Bachelor of Science degree in 1959 and from Cornell University with a Master of Nutrition Science degree in 1961. She graduated from Louisiana State University, New Orleans, Medical School in 1969, and completed her internship in internal medicine and residency in nephrology at Washington University in Saint Louis, Mo. in 1974. In 1978 she opened a Nephrology practice in Monroe, La. where she carried out her passion for patients and quality care for 22 years. She retired from private practice for two years, before returning to LSU Medical School in Shreveport to share her knowledge with the medical students, residents, and fellows that she mentored over the years until her retirement in December 2018 as a Professor of Medicine and Nephrology. At the time of her death, Joan was Emeritus Professor of Medicine at LSU Medical School.

Joan loved her family, reading, genealogy, needlework, cooking, travel, animals, especially cows, and being a physician. She was an active member in her community, having served on numerous boards and committees over the years. Among her many awards and accomplishments, she was Louisiana Tech University Alumnus of the Year in 1991, served on the Louisiana State Board of Regents for Higher Education from 1989-1994, and she received the prestigious Allen Copping Award for Excellence in Teaching in 2010 from the LSU Health Sciences Center in Shreveport.

She is survived by her brother's widow Connie Blondin and their children David Blondin, Jason Blondin, and Justin Blondin as well as by her sister's children Joe Simmons and Kay (Simmons) Chapman. She is also survived by many other nieces and nephews who will greatly miss her presence in their lives.

She was preceded in death by her parents, and both her brother Joe David Blondin and her sister Lillian (Blondin) Simmons.

Gregory L. Johnson, MD '71; Jan. '19

Gregory L. Johnson, 73, passed away on Thursday, January 3, 2019. He was born and raised in the Iron Range of northern Minnesota. Greg was a graduate of Northwestern University and Washington University School of Medicine in St. Louis, Mo. He completed his residency and fellowship in pediatric cardiology at Cincinnati Children's Hospital, then moved to Lexington, Ky., where he served as a professor and researcher at University of Kentucky Department of Pediatrics. In 2000, he joined the pediatric cardiology practice in Sibley Heart Center/Children's Healthcare of Atlanta, making the children of Athens and Gainesville the focus of his work. Greg retired from a long and distinguished medical career in December 2014. Retirement meant more time for reading, golf, swimming, and travel to destinations around the world with his wife, family and close friends. He adored his children and grandchildren. He was devoted to his granddaughter Lily and cherished every minute they spent together. He had a keen interest in family genealogy and, together with relatives in Sweden, traced a line of family descent from the seventeenth century. Stephen J. Barenkamp, HS '82; March '19

Stephen John Barenkamp, M.D., professor of pediatrics at Saint Louis University and director of the division of pediatric infectious diseases at SSM Health Cardinal Glennon Children's Hospital, died March 17, 2019. He was 67. Steve was born in St. Louis September 2, 1951 and was a long-time resident of Webster Groves.

Steve was the beloved son of Mary Iona Barenkamp (nee Headrick) and the late Walter John Barenkamp; dear brother of Deborah Barenkamp Roberson (John Sommerauer) and Patricia Barenkamp Cordes (Jim); and loveable uncle to Carolyn Moore, Anne Barenkamp (Jake Fisher), Julia Moore, and Kyle Roberson.

Growing up, Steve participated in many activities, including Indian Guides and summer baseball on the Optimist team. His life was enriched by his involvement in Scouting, and he achieved the rank of Eagle Scout. He graduated with honors from Webster Groves High School, where he lettered in varsity tennis. He graduated from Carleton College, Magna Cum Laude, where he was inducted into the Phi Beta Kappa Society. He received his medical degree from The Pritzker School of Medicine, University of Chicago, where he was elected into the Alpha Omega Alpha Honor Medical Society.

Steve did his residency and research fellowship in pediatric infectious diseases at St. Louis Children's Hospital, Washington University, and was an assistant professor of pediatrics at Washington University before joining SLU's faculty. A SLUCare pediatric infectious diseases expert, Dr. Barenkamp spent the bulk of his career at Saint Louis University, joining the faculty as associate professor of pediatrics in 1992. He treated children with infections, antibiotic resistance, and fevers of unknown origin. Blake Noyes, M. D., interim chair of the Department of Pediatrics at St. Louis University School of Medicine, described Steve as an incredible colleague, clinician, teacher and scientist.

Dr. Barenkamp's National Institutes of Health-funded research explored a vaccine for haemophilus influenzae, which can cause sinusitis, ear infections, and pneumonia. He was a nationally recognized and accomplished researcher, presenting at conferences and authoring many papers in high impact medical journals. He was a member of the Pediatric Infectious Diseases Society, Infectious Diseases Society of America, Society for Pediatric Research, and the American Pediatric Society. In Steve's leisure time, cycling was one of his favorite activities and he rode most mornings. He also loved sports, especially Cardinals baseball.

Steve adored spending time with his family, especially for Sunday dinners and holidays. He will be greatly missed by his family, colleagues, and friends.

Daniel T. Sargeant Jr., HS '80; April '19

Daniel Trigg Sargeant, MD, of Williamsburg, Virginia, died on April 15, 2019 in Richmond, Virginia. He was born on August 4, 1945 in Washington, D.C., to Daniel Trigg Sargeant, LLB, and Mathilde Davis Sargeant. He spent his childhood in Charlottesville, Va. on Rugby Road. He delivered newspapers by bicycle, and he mowed the lawns of his neighbors (including, once, the writer-in-residence William Faulkner). He studied mathematics and logic at the University of Virginia as an Echols Scholar. In 1967 he was graduated with intermediate honors and Phi Beta Kappa. He was commissioned a lieutenant in the United States Air Force, and deployed to Yokota Air Base in Tokyo, where he wrote programs for an early computer. He returned to the University of Virginia for medical school, which he completed in 1974. His residency in pediatrics was at Shands Hospital at the University of Florida. His fellowship in pediatric endocrinology was at Children's Hospital of Washington University in St. Louis. Dr. Sargeant practiced medicine in the Air Force, because there he never had to fight an insurance company. He was gentle and kind, and his patients loved him. Dr. Sargeant was on the clinical faculty at Tulane University and the University of California, Davis. He developed a fascination with diagnostic imaging, and he completed a residency in radiology at the University of Virginia. He practiced diagnostic radiology until his retirement as a colonel in 2005. Dr. Sargeant's liberal education provided him a command of art, literature, science, history, music, and modern languages. From his time in Japan, he developed an appreciation for ink painting and Imagism. He was partial to the arias of Verdi and Donizetti. Emmylou Harris was his favorite singer. He loved Louis L'Amour's cowboy novels and Arthur Conan Doyle's Sherlock Holmes stories. Dr. Sargeant could recall every detail of BBC murder mysteries with eidetic precision. He attended Mass at the National Shrine of Our Lady of Walsingham in Williamsburg. Dr. Sargeant possessed a cultivated intellect, a delicate taste, a candid, equitable, dispassionate mind, and a noble and courteous bearing in the conduct of life. Dr. Sargeant is survived by his wife, Andrea_Chisick, and two children, A. G. Davis Sargeant and Anna E. T. Sargeant of Williamsburg~Also surviving are a brother, Robert Hill Davis; a sister, Mathilde Sargeant Kaufman, an uncle, Ben Johnston Sargeant, an aunt, Katherine Moon Sargeant, all of Charlottesville, and a large extended family.
